W Carter Ave Cut Thru To Lima St

Extension Lies Across Floral Valley As New Entrance To Scenic Point

Tractors gouged a path across Floral Canyon Valley Monday, marking commencement of work on the long-heard-of West Carter avenue extension.

When completed, the road will provide direct access between North Lima street and Scenic Point—a new and direct entrance to the Wistaria Fete from the West.

Floral Canyon Valley will be levelled and converted into a mammoth parking lot for cars bringing visitors to the city's festival each spring.

The new road continues in a direct line west from Scenic Point. A gradual grade carries it down to the valley floor on the east side. To reach Lima street a 30-foot cut will be gouged through the ridge on the west side of the valley.

Marion L. Hays, who is supervising the joint city-WPA job, predicts a temporary road will be open to traffic by next Monday.

An interesting feature of the work is the fact that it was necessary to build a new outlet road for the residence of Mrs. Thomas M. Henszey which is located at the upper end of the west ridge. The old road leading from the Henszey home followed along the top of the ridge. Because the Carter avenue extension is to be cut right through the ridge, the Henszey road was run down the valley side of the ridge and then routed south along the west side of the valley floor. It will intersect the new extension, as will the present Floral Canyon road running north and south.

So that visitors coming in from the West to the Wistaria Fete need not hike up the new roadway to Scenic Point, a winding rustic trail will be run up the east side of the canyon, directly linking the parking area and grounds atop Scenic Point. The trail will be beautifully landscaped and provide a striking approach to the Fete.

Brilliant Hues Pop Out Of Trees

Nature Covers Up Scars Of Recent Frost With Gorgeous Display Of Blossoms

A few days of regular California weather and old Mother Nature made a gallant effort to hide the scars left by the recent cold weather and neglected by indifferent householders. The glorious Acacia Baileyana trees burst into gorgeous masses in every section of the city this week. Here and there the beautiful flowering peach trees popped with their glorious pink message of Spring. An occasional Japanese magnolia tried to join in the springtime chorus, but they were pretty hard hit by the frost and will not be as wonderful this year as ordinarily. Big buds on the flowering eucalyptus are swelling rapidly and a few more days of sunshine and they will snap into the springtime swing, along with the almond and other beautiful flowering trees. And when they are all in key, the rapidly swelling wistaria buds will snap out their lavender loveliness and Sierra Madre will be in the midst of its Wistaria Fete.

Providing a heartening sight to residents along West Grand View avenue are the 50-odd Acacia Baileyana on the estate of Dr. W. J. Barlow.

Over on scenic point a single flowering Japanese peach provides a spot of bright color—and a promise of future loveliness when its sisters, planted along the east and south walls, together with the great vine itself, burst into bloom.

Already the vine is a mass of tiny, fuzz-covered buds. Sunshine will hasten them along in no time at all.

Fire Chief W. D. Richards yesterday issued a cordial invitation to tree lovers to inspect his 10-year-old seedling acacia, now in bloom at his home at 430 Sturtevant Drive.

Now in their full flowering, the feathery yellow blossoms will not last longer than another week, the chief said, urging spectators to come up sometime this week-end.

Ten years ago, when the Sturtevant Road pavement was put in, several loads of dirt were dumped in the chief's yard, and the present tree apparently grew from a seed buried in one of the piles of dirt.

The chief is having difficulty fighting off blossom pickers, who seem to think the tree is public property, but he'll welcome tree-lovers who just want "to rubber," he says.

Fire Spray Project Surveyed

Chamber Of Commerce Gets Report On Feasibility Of Plans For Protection Here

A report on what, when completed, will likely be the biggest foothill fire prevention project of its kind ever undertaken in the Southern California area was submitted at a board of directors meeting of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce by the utilities and conservation committee Wednesday night.

The project envisions tapping the so-called "Quarter Way House" pipe line at several strategic points at an elevation of 1500 to 2000 feet and extending the laterals to a number of small storage reservoirs which in turn would provide the necessary pressure head for operation of spray nozzles covering dangerous fire areas.

A first-hand survey of the possibilities of the project was made by five members of the committee February 21. The members, J. S. Billheimer, Harold Roberts, A. F. Hannaford, E. E. Hitchcock and Paul V. Carter, hiked to the Quarter Way House about two miles up the Little Santa Anita Canyon, investigated the condition of the intake and then followed the line back along the mountainside as far as its intersection with Baldwin avenue Canyon.

The committee reported the small intake dam appeared to be intact, but the intake basin was filled with small rock and gravel. The pipe line, which extends about two miles from the Quarter Way House on the Wilson Trail across the ridges to the reservoir at the head of Auburn avenue, appeared to be in good condition, the committee said. It recommended some trestle work a short distance below the intake should be repaired.

Members pointed out that the area covered contained many serious fire threats, particularly that area overlooking densely populated Sierra Madre Canyon and Marlborough Terrace.

They declared the project is highly necessary because of the possibility of fire destroying the brush and tree covering which assures permanence of Sierra Madre's water supply. At the same time it would prevent disastrous floods which follow mountain fires and to which, Sierra Madre would be particularly vulnerable.

The committee has already met for tentative discussion of the project with W. V. Mendenhall, Angeles Forest supervisor, and was informed that the Forest Service would make a thorough survey of the project immediately. Mr. Mendenhall declared that there is no possibility of the city losing its equity in the pipe line, should the Forest Service act favorably on the project.

The project has received the endorsement of the city council, to which it was presented at its meeting by the Chamber of Commerce.

Canyon Park's Dog Poisoner "Gets" Another Pet

Ike, the thoroughbred black and tan belonging to Mrs. L. Clark, 533 Sturtevant Drive, was poisoned early yesterday morning. It was the second case of dog poisoning here this week and the latest in the long list of such outrages.

Let out of the house, Ike returned a few minutes later, then collapsed. The family made frantic attempts to revive the stricken animal, but to no avail. The dog, his legs rigid, his tongue shriveled up, died within a half hour.

His mistress, Mrs. Clark's 10-year-old daughter Lucile, was heartbroken.

FUTILE PROTESTS

Sierra Madre has forwarded to its representatives in Washington and Sacramento an emphatic and commendable protest against the proposal to combine the functions of the executive and judicial branches of the government in the President's hands. Thousands of other communities where the Constitution is still intelligently regarded as the bulwark of American liberty have and are doing the same thing.

But we fear and believe it will be all in vain.

And therein lies the danger of this Republic—the greatest it has faced since the Civil War.

Already in control of an unwieldy majority of the legislative branch of the government where Congressmen and Senators alike freely admit they are the President's "yes" and "rubber stamp" men, the President will be able to use the patronage whip with sufficient force to overcome any sizable uprising among the "law-makers," who disagree with his plan. Don't discount the power of patronage in the skillful hands of such a great showman and politician as Mr. Roosevelt who was able to be elected president in spite of, rather than with the help of the adroit Al Smith and others who made him a political figure.

Withholding of patronage, of approval of WPA projects and the favors that can come to States and Congressional districts through the enormous legislative powers already voted into the executive department by the legislative branch, will eventually line up enough votes to accomplish the executive's purpose—and this in spite of convictions the Congressmen and Senators may hold or of the attitude of the people of their districts. They will try to buy off the opposition they incur at home with favors they are able to lug back as the price of cowardice. They used to call it "hog rolling."

Sounds cowardly, un-American, like the decline if not the collapse of representative government and democracy. That is the danger. If both the Congress and the Supreme Court can be bossed by the executive, we have a one-man government. Then what?

Watch the prophecy on the outcome at Washington shortly when the old patronage rack is brought out and the thumbscrews are put on... It's working right now.

A FORWARD MOVE

Uniform reporting of many expenditures throughout the state as proposed in Sante Bill 1094, now before the Legislature, and strongly approved by the Southern Council of the California State Chamber of Commerce this week would seem to be a move in the right direction.

Sponsored by the State Association of County Auditors, it is contended such a measure will make possible the comparison of financial transactions of counties and districts, and will make it possible to effect substantial economies in county government.

It was also brought out in the Chamber of Commerce discussions that the prospects of liquidating the State deficit and balancing the budget during the next two years, without new or increased taxes, are seriously jeopardized by the many bills which have been introduced seeking increased expenditures or special appropriations not included in the Governor's budget. Only constant alertness, it was warned, will prevent many of these proposals from being enacted into law at the current session of the Legislature.

The Chicago White Sox at Pasadena.

Its spring training for the big leaguers and two of the clubs are working out within speaking distance of Sierra Madre. Advance squads of both clubs arrived this week.

Neither the Pirates or White Sox are figured by the experts to land on top in their respective leagues, but there is no telling what may happen, in fact almost anything can happen in a major league race with 154 games scheduled.

According to the dope, the White Sox and Pirates need more pitching strength to successfully cope with their rivals, but both clubs have a number of youngsters in camp who may be able to deliver—that's the real answer to a manager's prayer.

Jimmy Dykes of the Sox, is very enthusiastic over a couple of kids whom he believes will make the grade. At least that's what Irving Vaughan Chicago Tribune baseball writer told me Saturday night when I had dinner with him at the Green Hotel.

"The Sox made a wonderful showing last year," said Vaughan "and the material was none too good, either. Dykes is a smart manager. The players like him and he is able to develop a couple of pitchers who can win consistently, look out for the Sox—they will be up near the top all season."

As for the Pirates of the National league at San Bernardino, Manager "Pie" Traynor has a hustling crew, but he too needs pitching strength and like Jimmy Dykes hopes that some of the youngsters who are to try out will make the grade.

The Pirates, by the way, are living at the swanky Arrow Head Springs Hotel and have returned to San Bernardino after a one year lapse. Hans Wagner probably the greatest short stop and one of the greatest all around players and batters the game has ever known, is with the Pittsburgh crew as coach and scout and believe me, he knows baseball.

In Baltimore, Md., recently a safe driving campaign was being waged through the newspapers, and a well-known paper kicked in the following:

"Get Drunk and drive like Hell over the Week-End. We will print your funeral notice on Monday."

In a Los Angeles tap room where beer and light wines are sold, the following notice in big bold type is displayed where every one can see it.

"Quit your kickin' about paying 10 cents for a glass of beer, this is what it costs us:

Beer on tap03
Government tax02
State tax02
County tax01
Overhead01
Ice01

Total10

If the foregoing is correct then the tap room proprietor is taking it on the chin every time he sells a glass of beer.

Something that mystified me for a long time has been explained. When I came here I heard the song of birds night and day. Several chattered through the night right at my bedroom window. Suddenly late last Fall it occurred to me that I hadn't heard one particular variety of our little feathered friends for quite awhile. Suddenly one day recently the familiar music that I had missed came back and now there is a chorus of this chatter from thousands of throats. How come? I asked a California-wise friend. He explained that the song I had missed and that is back now is that of the mocking bird, who sings night and day from February until August, then takes a vacation until February again.

I'm learning a lot about the Golden State, including interesting facts about the birds and blossoms and can hardly wait until the wild flower fields and the desert come into bloom, to say nothing of the great almond patches up through Jack Rabbit pass and the millions of yucca trees that I am told dot the mountainsides, the desert and the washes.

TOWN PICKUPS

The races will be over this week or to be exact on Saturday, and as one local merchant put it "perhaps some of my customers will come in and pay their bills." City Manager Al Myers is certainly going to town and building that baseball park, he promised some four months ago. Ex-jockey Dermont, of South Dakota, too big to ride and can't trim down, says that the more he sees of California, the less he thinks of South Dakota as a spot in which to live. Too bad that the Iowa society picnic was called off and postponed until Saturday (tomorrow). There will be 30 or more native Iowans from Sierra Madre at the reunion. What Lee Shipley said about the heart of "Ourville" goes for me too. "It's rumored that some enterprising young man plans to open a billiard and bowling alley emporium in Sierra Madre. Disastrous floods caused havoc and suffering in Mississippi and Ohio valleys, but to Sierra Madre the flood waters that have swelled our spreading grounds mean good times. "It's an ill wind" according to the old saying. Harvey Steinberger called at the home of our publisher and left a valentine. Thanks Harvey, those grounds were long over due. There is every reason to believe that barring a few rain storms, spring has arrived. March 17 will soon be here. Get out that green necktie for St. Patrick's Day.

LETTERS From Readers

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Every once in awhile it seems necessary to remind readers of THE NEWS that while they are cordially invited to use its columns to express themselves, there must be some regulation of this department. For instance it has been an inviolable rule that anonymous letters will not be published. They must be signed. On request the names need not necessarily be published. Also it is necessary to limit the length of letters to approximately three hundred words. Among recent unsigned letters being held on the editor's desk is one concerning the Wistaria Fete and the firemen. Other signed "Sierra Madre Resident" has to do with cruelty to dogs. THE NEWS will be glad to publish them if their authors will come in and identify themselves, or send in their names.)

FORUM DEBATE ECHO

To the Editor of the Sierra Madre News:

Debate at last week's local Forum on the Roosevelt Supreme Court issue brought out the danger of radical thinking among those where it should be least expected—moderate, but substantial property owners, that person most likely to be the first victims of the near-revolutionary theories they advocate.

One gentleman advocated the complete overthrow of the historic powers of the high court which have made the tribunal a bulwark of national safety, human rights and liberty, by having the judges elected by and recallable at the whim of the 51 per cent of whatever number of citizens might take the trouble to exercise the franchise at any election.

Another man wanted younger blood on the bench. He also wanted "a new conception of property rights." Postmaster Ray Calkin declared without qualification that, "Every man should have a property right to his job."

When placed in power labor unionism has sometimes unfairly appropriated this principle and so restricted the employer's right to "hire and fire" as seriously to impair discipline and make one wonder who really owns the property. Once this principle should become crystallized into statute or constitutional law and upheld by a reorganized Supreme Court, an employer compelled to reduce his force because of economic conditions or to discharge an incompetent or vicious employee would soon be compelled to appear as a suppliant before a court or commission asking permission to exercise this most elementary right of ownership.

In view of the growing power of labor unionism under the encouragement of the administration, tribunals authorized to act upon such matters would be pre-disposed to favor the employee as against the employer. It always has been a recognized principle of law that the burden of proof is always upon the plaintiff, especially if it is sought to deprive any person of "property rights." Recognition of a "property right to a job" alone would make dismissal of any worker a long tedious and costly proceeding, with the burden of proving incompetence, or even dishonesty or sabotage, resting entirely upon the employer. Employees would come close to ownership of the business which others had created by their brains, energy and the investment of capital, often the result of years of hard labor and self privation, and of a business the existence of which had given the employees a chance to live.

Under these conditions who would be mad enough to invest in any enterprise big enough to require the employment of outside help. It would seem as if the only possible result would be in the course of a few years the nationalism of all big industry, with private capital and enterprise engaged only in establishments small enough to be operated by the owners without outside help.

Such a condition would be a big approach to what prevails in Russia. No doubt there are people in America who would welcome Russian conditions—until they learned by personal experience what they are like. But this writer finds it impossible to imagine Mr. Calkin investing his money in a business in which his hired help would possess "a property right to his job," which amounts in practice to a near-ownership.

HITS ADOPTION PLAN

To the Editor of the Sierra Madre News:
May I call your attention to the proposed changes in the Children's Adoption Laws of California, which are soon to be in-

A million-dollar railroad train, the first of Southern Pacific's twin "Daylight" streamliners, has arrived in Los Angeles, and will immediately start a series of trial runs, prior to entering regular service over the Coast Route between Los Angeles and San Francisco. The second Daylight train will reach the coast within a few days. Trial runs by the trains will establish a basis for regular fast schedules, it was stated. It is expected the Daylight will leave Los Angeles northbound at 8:15 a.m., arriving San Francisco before dinner time. The two trains carry 12 cars each.

whose design and appointments provide a new high in speed, comfort and safety.

Millions of lives were lost during the recent cold spell in Los Angeles County, the Board of Supervisors was told today. The casualties were suffered in the county's ladybug colony at Rivera where an insectary breeds the useful insects to combat mealybugs in citrus orchards.

What Fred Goodcell, Executive Secretary, Associated Farmers of California has to say on the California farm labor situation is interesting. "Migratory workers stream into California at the rate of 6,000 a month, and all want work on a farm. There isn't that much work on farms," he told newspapermen.

The per capita increase in wealth in America is indicated by the fact that in 1910 there were 16,372,000 savings accounts. In 1935 this had grown to 41,350,000. In 1900 there were 10,000 life insurance policy holders; in 1935 there were 63,000,000. In 1900 there were 1,000,000 telephones in use; in 1936 there were 17,450,000.

An increase in placements of 45 per cent over January of this year and of 83 per cent over February, 1936, is reported for the California State Employment Service in Los Angeles county. Though February is a short month and includes two holidays the Los Angeles office, its branches and its affiliates in Long Beach, Pasadena and Santa Monica found work for 9,183 men, women and juniors.

At the present time the shortage supply of California navel oranges enables Florida and Texas growers access to Eastern markets normally California's on a price basis Paul S. Armstrong, general manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange said this week. "It will take effort to win these markets back another season, but it can and will be done," he said.

"A frost year is always difficult for everybody," Armstrong said, "but we must conduct operations to get the maximum returns for the reduced crop and also keep our trade relations and consumer demand in good shape for the future."

The present law requires an intensive investigation of the homes which orphaned and dependent children are to enter, and also requires a trial period of one year before the new parents are permitted finally to adopt the child; whereas the changes proposed permit completion of adoption with practically no investigation, and reduce the time for completion of the procedure to five days, a thoroughly vicious measure which jeopardizes the welfare of helpless children.

I take this means of bringing this important matter to the attention of the people of Sierra Madre and urge that they send cards or letters at once, to Lieutenant Governor George Hatfield, State Capitol, Sacramento, expressing their indignation and disapproval of these measures.

TIME TO WAKE UP

Editor of The News:

I want to congratulate you and your newspaper on the publication of C. S. Showalter's letter on "The Issue" in the paper issued February 26. It is the most sensible and concise summary of the effort in Washington to set up a dynasty in this country that I have come across. For several years this Nation seems to have been in the doldrums. What with the dole and other pampering our people seemed to have quit thinking for themselves—lost their initiative. But the most stupid of our citizens must see danger clouds hovering over the Constitution. The most forbidding of them is this one of which Mr. Showalter wrote so instructively and which threatens our courts and Constitution alike.

Class Elections At
Pasadena Jaycee
Are Decisive

Harold Shafer has just been elected freshman class president at Pasadena Junior College, ballots being cast by 67 per cent of the class. Defeated competitors were Robert Morgan and Charles Shannon. Other freshman candidates elected were Bill Solani, vice-president; Nadine Gunderson, secretary; and Frank Towner, treasurer. Wanda Schoenberg and Eleanor Smith were elected to the Associated Women Students cabinet.

The junior class elected Earl Roulac vice-president and Billie Crain and Alyss Greer as A.W.S. cabinet members. Nathalie Rice and Beatrice Barnett were uncontested for offices of junior secretary and treasurer.

Al Nodka nosed out Bill Emaline and Patty McCune in the run-off election for senior vice-president. Carl Stanford, uncontested, was named secretary, while Jane Hare became the new treasurer. Margaret Arnold and Jane Hazenbush were voted A.W.S. representatives. The election polled 15 per cent of the senior class vote.

Arrange Southland's
Biggest Posy Show

Indoor and outdoor flower exhibits, featuring potted plants, and a series of 15 lectures by prominent professional and amateur gardeners of Southern California will comprise the highlights of the State Garden Federation Spring Flower Show at the House and Garden exhibit, 5900 Wilshire boulevard, Los Angeles, March 19-21.

Manager of the show is C. Jacques Hahn, 457 North Lima street, noted Sierra Madre horticulturist.

Sculptor Gleb Derujinsky is now at work on a statue which will be placed in the French garden at the show.

Five model houses, representing early American, New Orleans, French, English and modern types of architecture, will be decorated with flowers specially selected to suit each room and mode. Throughout the grounds potted plants will be lavishly displayed.

Busy on preliminary work, Hahn yesterday predicted attendance figures for the three-day show would total around 12,000.

Hours are 12 a.m. to 10 p.m. Fridays and 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

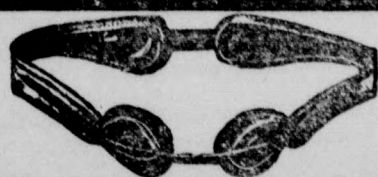

AFTER the fire drill last Friday, a number of the firemen returned with their uniforms splashed with mud. When the stream hit a pile of dirt it "back-fired." Some sections now on the trucks are beginning to look "seedy." It is a very embarrassing situation when the hose breaks while fighting a fire. It has happened to us.

The great Santa Anita Handicap had some attraction to several firemen, including Joe Swanson dressed in a tight fitting pair of dark blue trousers, held up with a pair of firemen's suspenders. He wore an old shirt, just in case. No one will ever know whether he played the horses or not. Arrayed in one of the latest colored suits, Frank Lovell and his beautiful daughter squeezed thru' the crowd. As tho' trying to "duck" someone, Jim Heasley was seen coming out from behind the line leading up to a "show" window. He was dressed in the latest style Sierra Madre police uniform. We heard that the reason he wore that was so that he could get in free. Several others were there, but they kept pretty much along the straight and narrow rail.

The chief's wife has been after him for a long time to take her to the races. Finally he agreed. No sooner had they started to the track than the skies let loose a shower that would soak ivory.

We had no fires in February, but of course we had plenty of rain. However we were fortunate because the weather called for much firing up. Let's not have a fire in March.

Baldwin Baldwins
Divorced In Reno
Where They Married

Unscrambling the marital mix-up of Baldwin M. Baldwin and climaxing two months of rumors of an impending separation, a Reno, Nev., court Monday granted Mrs. Margaret Wilson Baldwin an annulment of her marriage to the playboy grandson of the famous E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin.

Mrs. Baldwin in her suit said the California courts had refused to recognize a decree of divorce her husband had obtained from his first wife, Nell Maxine Baldwin, in Riga, Latvia, in December, 1932. Answering his wife's suit, Baldwin said the decree was subsequently attacked in California courts and ruled valid.

The Baldwins were married in Reno, March 6, 1933.

Work On Stage For Drama Guild Will Be Started Soon

Four new members, Dorothy and Katherine Wiley, Carla Thayer and Jacquelin Russe, were present at a meeting of the Senior Drama Guild for their regular session last Monday evening. Russell Lovejoy is now head of Ways and Means committee. Mrs. Eakman, the advisor, informed the group that the erection of the new stage would begin within a few days. Donations for the purpose were received from the American Legion, Mrs. Russe, and P. P. Sheehan.

At the next meeting the first play will go into production and the first edition of the Senior Guild News will be ready for publication soon.

THRILLING STORY IS LOST HORIZONS

Fate stops its whirling wheel to retrace the steps of a life which might have been, in "Lost Horizons," slated for the Pasadena Community Playhouse, March 9 to 20. The play, counted by Burns Mantle as one of New York's "Ten best" during the 1934-35 season, comes as one of the most unusual stage pieces ever attempted. The action of "Lost Horizons," which incidentally is not to be confused with the Hilton novel, "Lost Horizon," revolves around a girl who resorts to a pistol-suicide finish to her earthly life.

Importance Of Planting Now Stressed

That the home flower gardens and street parking strips in Los Angeles County may again present their usual much-lauded appearance to the thousands of tourists who will visit Southern California next summer, Byron C. Hanna, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, today joined Governor Frank F. Merriam in urging all home owners to observe this week as planting week. Fittingly, the week ends Saturday, Arbor Day.

"One of the finest cultural assets of Southern California, and one which never fails to evoke loud praise from the visitors who annually come here, is the wealth of out-of-doors grown flowers," said Mr. Hanna.

"The recent cold weather killed many of the plants and shrubs in home gardens and community gardens. If we wish to continue to present the wonderful floral picture which has brought us so much favorable national notice, we should all replant these flowers and shrubs. This Planting Week is an excellent time in which to do it."

"I hope that every home-owner, park commission and others interested in maintaining our floral appearance will replant now — why not this week? The effort we expend now will repay us manifold next summer."

Dean Hammond comes from Ventura and is Dean of the Convocation of Santa Barbara. His visit is a part of a series of exchange visits among the Episcopal clergy of Southern California. He has been much interested in the Oxford Group movement in the church and brings new light on their religion, both to Episcopal church members and also to those of other churches. The public is cordially welcomed.

Poison Fiend Takes Life Of The Pet Of Three Children

Lobo, the year-old brown and white terrier of Billy, Harold and Freda Rhodes, died of strychnine poisoning the other morning. The children and their mother Mrs. Marie Rhodes, who live at 610 Woodland Drive, let Lobo out of the house for his usual before-breakfast constitutional. He returned five minutes later and was about to tackle his bowl of milk when he was seized with convulsions.

The family did what they could but Lobo was dead within an hour. Lobo's case is the latest in a long list of dog poisonings in Canyon Park.

SWITCH TO ELECTRIC COOKERY

It's cool and clean

●The joy of a cool, immaculate kitchen is something to think about with summer coming on. Why look ahead to months of discomfort when it is so easy to have an electric range? ●Summer meals are a pleasure to prepare on an electric range. Your kitchen remains cool, for an electric range does not increase room temperature. And electric range cooking lessens cleaning tasks — electric heat is as clean as sunshine. ●Electric cookery is economical, too, because you get a special wholesale domestic rate on electricity. Your dealer will be glad to show you the new electric ranges. See him today.

THEY'RE GOING PLACES AND LEARNING THINGS AT THE GRAMMAR SCHOOL

A quickening of the pulse is definitely felt up at school these glad days of spring with sweaters being hilariously tossed in the air and shining eyes eagerly scanning the great outside. Yes... a faster tempo is noticed even at that institution which allows no energies to lag or activities to cease.

Foremost among the week's events was the first of a series of eight "Conferences On Problems of Adminstrating and Supervising the Experiencing Curriculum" headed by Mrs. Lorraine Sherer, curriculum director of Los Angeles county, which convened at 3 p.m. Wednesday afternoon. Miss Elizabeth Steinberger was chairman. Miss Sherer will appear on two other programs of this series.

The group is limited to 35 members. Dairies built by Mrs. Leonard's class and a house constructed by Mrs. Albright's class will be evaluated by them. On a previous date, supervisors from the Los Angeles county primary schools observed the work done by Mrs. Leonard's pupils, who have attracted such widespread attention all winter through their extraordinary ability that they must feel like famous characters by this time.

The diversity of projects at school, embracing so many interests, afforded an opportunity to the pupils in Miss Claire Newman's room to pay a visit to the United Airport at Burbank on another day. This group also included Miss Betty Newton's class, who with her mother, Mrs. Newton, Mrs. Donald Tarr, James Heasley and several other friends made up a happy party.

They saw two planes arrive and two depart and were instructed in various phases of the mail deliveries. After returning to school, they immediately set about to construct an airport and passenger station. Many had secret desires to soar in the clouds, but it only fell to Mr. Heasley to get that break.

On the same day Miss Wones marshalled her charges, with the assistance of four mothers, to the Southwest Museum, that most interesting repository of Southwest Indian relics on Pasadena Avenue.

Here the children reveled in the beautiful handwork of the people they are studying, and absorbed all that they could of the lore of the Navajo and Hopi tribes. Many of the articles upon which they spend so many useful hours were exhibited in their original form in the innumerable showcases. The "Katchina," in particular, was most intriguing to them, as they are familiar with these idols, or omens of good luck.

Women Fill Church Kitchen With Many Needed Utensils

Sixty members of the Women's Society of the Congregational church were present in the ladies' parlors, sewing in the Children's Plaza Community Home of Sierra Madre at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. After the box luncheon hour, the business meeting was held at 1:30 followed by a novel hard-time party, featuring a kitchen shower planned by Mrs. W. S. Hull and her entertainment committee.

Mrs. Arthur O. Pritchard, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. B. L. Hinkley, sang a clever parody, written by Mrs. J. S. Billheimer on "Annie Laurie," pertaining to the needs of the church kitchen. Dr. M. C. Laidlaw was crowned queen of the kitchen and presided in her own inimitable manner over the kitchen shower as each member garbed in her shabbiest clothing, presented her gift for the kitchen at the queen's throne.

At the conclusion of the affair, Mrs. R. C. Copenhaver, custodian, announced that the church kitchen was now generously supplied with a variety of necessary utensils.

MISS KORTKAMP WILL APPEAR IN RECITAL

Miss Moreland Kortkamp, 32 Park avenue, will be presented in a piano recital by Miss Clara Ingham at the Church of Truth in Pasadena, Monday evening, beginning at 8:15. Miss Kortkamp extends a cordial invitation to all her friends to be present.

DAILY MATINEES NOW AT UPTOWN THEATRE

The new Uptown theatre, Pasadena, announced this week a policy of daily matinees, the doors opening at 1:45 and the show starting at 2 p.m. This does not alter the regular policy of a continuous show on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays with doors opening at 1 p.m.

The tremendous popularity of Deanna Durbin in "3 Smart Girls" has prompted the management of the Uptown to hold this program over through Saturday of this week. On the same program is the J. Edgar Hoover picture "You Can't Get Away With It," and a second feature, Guy Kibbee and Sybel Jason in "The Captain's Kid." Starting Sunday Bobby Breen will be seen in "Rainbow on the River" along with the glamorous new screen personality Doris Nolan in "The Man I Marry."

MISS WADE SOLOIST FOR THE SYMPHONY

Miss Dorothy Wade, a talented student of Prof. Oskar Seiling, 500 Adams street, will appear as soloist for the Pasadena Symphony Orchestra at the concert Saturday evening, to be given in the Civic Auditorium at Pasadena. Miss Wade, an accomplished musician, will present "Beethoven's Concerto." Richard Lert is the conductor.

Four new members, Dorothy and Katherine Wiley, Carla Thayer and Jacquelin Russe, were present at a meeting of the Senior Drama Guild for their regular session last Monday evening. Donations for the purpose were received from the American Legion, Mrs. Russe, and P. P. Sheehan.

At the next meeting the first play will go into production and the first edition of the Senior Guild News will be ready for publication soon.

CLARA MAE STAMM IN BILTMORE RECITAL

Clara Mae Wilson-Stamm, noted pianist and former Sierra Madrean, will present an unusual program at the Biltmore Music Room tonight at 8:30 o'clock, under the management of Brooks and Kendig.

Having concertized extensively throughout California, Mrs. Stamm is recognized especially as an authority on modern music. She plays with remarkable understanding, and her intelligent interpretations have gained her a wide popularity. She is director of the Vista School of Music.

THRILLING STORY IS LOST HORIZONS

Fate stops its whirling wheel to retrace the steps of a life which might have been, in John Haydon's amazing play, "Lost Horizons," slated for the Pasadena Community Playhouse, March 9 to 20. The play, counted by Burns Mantle as one of New York's "Ten best" during the 1934-35 season, comes as one of the most unusual stage pieces ever attempted. The action of "Lost Horizons," which incidentally is not to be confused with the Hilton novel, "Lost Horizon," revolves around a girl who resorts to a pistol-suicide finish to her earthly life.

Importance Of Planting Now Stressed

That the home flower gardens and street parking strips in Los Angeles County may again present their usual much-lauded appearance to the thousands of tourists who will visit Southern California next summer, Byron C. Hanna, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, today joined Governor Frank F. Merriam in urging all home owners to observe this week as planting week. Fittingly, the week ends Saturday, Arbor Day.

"One of the finest cultural assets of Southern California, and one which never fails to evoke loud praise from the visitors who annually come here, is the wealth of out-of-doors grown flowers," said Mr. Hanna.

"The recent cold weather killed many of the plants and shrubs in home gardens and community gardens. If we wish to continue to present the wonderful floral picture which has brought us so much favorable national notice, we should all replant these flowers and shrubs. This Planting Week is an excellent time in which to do it."

"I hope that every home-owner, park commission and others interested in maintaining our floral appearance will replant now—why not this week? The effort we expend now will repay us manifold next summer."

COLORADO PICNIC MARCH 14

President Bill Campbell, of the Colorado State Society announces that the postponed Colorado State picnic will be held all day, Sunday March 14th in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles, with basket dinners at noon. He promises a popular program and that county registers and headquarters will be open all day so friends may meet each other.

Teaching Mission Opens At Episcopal Church Sunday

At the Church of the Ascension next Sunday evening, the Rev. S. R. Hammond will begin a teaching mission, which will continue over Monday and Tuesday. Dean Hammond comes from Ventura and is Dean of the Convocation of Santa Barbara. His visit is a part of a series of exchange visits among the Episcopal clergy of Southern California. He has been much interested in the Oxford Group movement in the church and brings new light on their religion, both to Episcopal church members and also to those of other churches. The public is cordially welcomed.

Poison Fiend Takes Life Of The Pet Of Three Children

Lobo, the year-old brown and white terrier of Billy, Harold and Freda Rhodes, died of strychnine poisoning the other morning. The children and their mother Mrs. Marie Rhodes, who live at 610 Woodland Drive, let Lobo out of the house for his usual before-breakfast constitutional. He returned five minutes later and was about to tackle his bowl of milk when he was seized with convulsions.

The family did what they could but Lobo was dead within an hour.

Lobo's case is the latest in a long list of dog poisonings in Canyon Park.

SWITCH TO ELECTRIC COOKERY

It's cool and clean

● The joy of a cool, immaculate kitchen is something to think about with summer coming on. Why look ahead to months of discomfort when it is so easy to have an electric range? ● Summer meals are a pleasure to prepare on an electric range. Your kitchen remains cool, for an electric range does not increase room temperature. And electric range cooking lessens cleaning tasks—electric heat is as clean as sunshine. ● Electric cookery is economical, too, because you get a special wholesale domestic rate on electricity. Your dealer will be glad to show you the new electric ranges. See him today.

Class Elections At
Are Decisive

Harold Shafer has just been elected freshman class president at Pasadena Junior College, ballots being cast by 67 per cent of the class. Defeated competitors were Robert Morgan and Charles Shannon. Other freshman candidates elected were Bill Solani, vice-president; Nadine Gunderson, secretary, and Frank Towner, treasurer. Wanda Schoenberg and Eleanor Smith were elected to the Associated Women Students cabinet.

With 26 per cent of the class balloting, Muriel Stevens was elected vice-president of the sophomore class; Ramon Martin, secretary, and Willard Smith, treasurer. New sophomore A.W.S. cabinet members are Mary Ann Moss and Barbara Lombard.

The junior class elected Earl Roulac vice-president and Billie Crain and Alyss Greer as A.W.S. cabinet members. Nathalie Rice and Beatrice Barnett were uncontested for offices of junior secretary and treasurer.

Al Nodka nosed out Bill Emarine and Patty McCune in the run-off election for senior vice-president. Carl Stanford, uncontested, was named secretary, while Jane Hare became the new treasurer. Margaret Arnold and Jane Hazenbush were voted A.W.S. representatives. The election polled 15 per cent of the senior class vote.

Sierra Madreans
Arrange Southland's
Biggest Posy Show

Indoor and outdoor flower exhibits, featuring potted plants, and a series of 15 lectures by prominent professional and amateur gardeners of Southern California will comprise the highlights of the State Garden Federation Spring Flower Show at the House and Garden exhibit, 5900 Wilshire boulevard, Los Angeles, March 19-21.

Manager of the show is C. Jacques Hahn, 457 North Lima street, noted Sierra Madre horticulturist.

Sculptor Gleb Derujinsky is now at work on a statue which will be placed in the French garden at the show.

Five model houses, representing early American, New Orleans, French, English and modern types of architecture, will be decorated with flowers specially selected to suit each room and mode. Throughout the grounds potted plants will be lavishly displayed.

Busy on preliminary work, Hahn yesterday predicted attendance figures, for the three-day show would total around 12,000. Hours are 12 a.m. to 10 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

AFTER the fire drill last Friday, a number of the firemen returned with mud uniforms splashed with mud. When the stream hit a pile of dirt it "back-fired." Some sections now on the trucks are beginning to look "seedy." It is a very embarrassing situation when the hose breaks while fighting a fire. It has happened to us.

The great Santa Anita Handicap had some attraction to several firemen, including Joe Swanson dressed in a tight fitting pair of dark blue trousers, held up with a pair of firemen's suspenders. He wore an old shirt, just in case. No one will ever know whether he played the horses or not. Arrayed in one of the latest colored suits, Frank Lovell and his beautiful daughter squeezed thru' the crowd. As tho' trying to "duck" someone, Jim Heasley was seen coming out from behind the line leading up to a "show" window. He was dressed in the latest style Sierra Madre police uniform. We heard that the reason he wore that was so that he could get in free. Several others were there, but they kept pretty much along the straight and narrow rail.

The chief's wife has been after him for a long time to take her to the races. Finally he agreed. No sooner had they started to the track than the skies let loose a shower that would soak ivory.

We had no fires in February, but of course we had plenty of rain. However we were fortunate because the weather called for much firing up. Let's not have a fire in March.

Baldwin Baldwins
Divorced In Reno
Where They Married

Unscrambling the marital mix-up of Baldwin M. Baldwin and his wife, Mrs. Margaret Wilson Baldwin, climaxed two months of rumors of an impending separation, a Reno, Nev., court Monday granted Mrs. Margaret Wilson Baldwin an annulment of her marriage to the playboy grandson of the famous E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin.

Mrs. Baldwin in her suit said the California courts had refused to recognize a decree of divorce her husband had obtained from his first wife, Nell Maxine Baldwin, in Riga, Latvia, in December, 1932. Answering his wife's suit, Baldwin said the decree was subsequently attacked in California courts and ruled valid.

The Baldwins were married in Reno, March 8, 1933.

THEY'RE GOING PLACES AND LEARNING THINGS AT THE GRAMMAR SCHOOL

A quickening of the pulse is definitely felt up at school these glad days of spring with sweaters being hilariously tossed in the air and shining eyes eagerly scanning the great outside. Yes... a faster tempo is noticed even at that institution which allows no energies to lag or activities to cease.

Foremost among the week's events was the first of a series of eight "Conferences On Problems of Administrating and Supervising the Experiencing Curriculum" headed by Mrs. Lorraine Sherer, curriculum director of Los Angeles county, which convened at 3 p.m. Wednesday afternoon. Miss Elizabeth Steinberger was chairman. Miss Sherer will appear on two other programs of this series.

The group is limited to 35 members. Dairies built by Mrs. Leonard's class and a house constructed by Mrs. Albright's class will be evaluated by them. On a previous date, supervisors from the Los Angeles county primary schools observed the work done by Mrs. Leonard's pupils, who have attracted such widespread attention all winter through their extraordinary ability that they must feel like famous characters by this time.

The diversity of projects at school, embracing so many interests, afforded an opportunity to the pupils in Miss Claire Newman's room to pay a visit to the United Airport at Burbank on another day. This group also included Miss Betty Newton's class, who with her mother, Mrs. Newton, Mrs. Donald Tarr, James Heasley and several other friends made up a happy party.

They saw two planes arrive and two depart and were instructed in various phases of the mail deliveries. After returning to school, they immediately set about to construct an airport and passenger station. Many had secret desires to soar in the clouds, but it only fell to Mr. Heasley to get that break.

On the same day Miss Wones marshalled her charges, with the assistance of four mothers, to the Southwest Museum, that most interesting repository of Southwest Indian relics on Pasadena Avenue.

Here the children reveled in the beautiful handwork of the people they are studying, and absorbed all that they could of the lore of the Navajo and Hopi tribes. Many of the articles upon which they spend so many useful hours were exhibited in their original form in the innumerable showcases. The "Katchina," in particular, was most intriguing to them, as they are familiar with these idols, or omens of good luck.

—Mildred C. Bolms.

Women Fill Church Kitchen With Many Needed Utensils

Sixty members of the Women's Society of the Congregational church were present in the ladies' parlors, sewing for the Children's Plaza Community Home of Sierra Madre at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. After the box luncheon hour, the business meeting was held at 1:30 followed by a novel hard-time party, featuring a kitchen shower planned by Mrs. W. S. Hull and her entertainment committee.

Mrs. Arthur O. Pritchard, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. B. L. Hinkley, sang a clever parody, written by Mrs. J. S. Billheimer, on "Annie Laurie," pertaining to the needs of the church kitchen. Dr. M. C. Laidlaw was crowned queen of the kitchen and presided in her own inimitable manner over the kitchen shower as each member garbed in her shabbiest clothing, presented her gift for the kitchen at the queen's throne.

At the conclusion of the affair, Mrs. R. C. Copenhaver, custodian, announced that the church kitchen was now generously supplied with a variety of necessary utensils.

MISS KORTKAMP WILL APPEAR IN RECITAL

Miss Moreland Kortkamp, 32 Park avenue, will be presented in a piano recital by Miss Clara Ingham at the Church of Truth in Pasadena, Monday evening, beginning at 8:15. Miss Kortkamp extends a cordial invitation to all her friends to be present.

Edgar Hoover picture "You Can't Get Away With It," and a second feature, Guy Kibbee and Sybil Jason in "The Captain's Kid." Starting Sunday Bobby Breen will be seen in "Rainbow on the River" along with the glamorous new screen personality Doris Nolan in "The Man I Marry."
